FRESHMAN WEEK EXTRA | ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE, WINOOSKI, VERMONT | SEPTEMBER 14, 1962

WELCOME, CLASS OF '66

Welcome to St. Michael's, Class of 1966. Congratulations on being one of the 300 new Michaelmen who are participating in Freshman Week this fall.

A series of interesting activities has been planned for you during these few days of orientation. The aim is to help you see what life is at St. Michael's during the year. Your "big brother" from the Crown and Sword Honorary Society will also tell you about life on campus and in the Queen City.

A new chapter in your lives has begun. You are no longer high school kids but college men. Life at college will sometimes be easy, sometimes rough. It will be a time of self-testing.

Each one of you has the capability of successfully completing your studies. Think of the large number of students refused admittance because you showed a higher capacity.

St. Michael's offers an additional service to interested students. The Program of English for Foreign students, which starts next week, provides the opportunity for Michaelmen to meet and talk to students from Latin America, Asia and other parts of the world. These foreign students are in the States for the first time and the impression you give them is what they will convey to their fellow countrymen about the Americans and their way of life. You have an excellent opportunity to act as an unofficial good-will ambassador.

THE MICHAELMAN, your weekly college newspaper, is interested in you, your activities and life at St. Michael's in general. Your contributions to the paper will be gladly accepted for our consideration. We hope you will encourage your parents to subscribe and be informed of your activities at St. Michael's.

You'll meet the rest of the upperclassmen Monday, when they arrive for registration and Tuesday classes. As you meet them, you'll feel more a part of St. Michael's.

Well, fellow students, good luck and happy staying. Nos vemos.

Building Program Remodels Campus

by Joe Guilfoyle

By the time you, the Class of 1966, read this you will have had time to get acquainted with your campus. What you are seeing is the end result of years of hard work, backed by millions of dollars and the prayers of all those connected with St. Michael's.

Our building program began back in 1904 when Founders' Hall - known for years as Old Hall - became the first step in the long-term construction plan which will end several years after you graduate. Our program has kept pace with the times as the temporary wooden buildings give way to colonial red brick at an ever increasing rate.

The term "Frantic Fifties" might apply as well to St. Michael's as to the general turmoil of the decade so named. Cheray Science Hall, the athletic field, Ryan Hall and Alumni Hall were dedicated and the pace never slacked as we plowed into the "Soaring Sixties."

Lyons Hall was completed. Ah! Time for a coffee break. No, not yet. The mortar was still damp on the upper floors of Lyons Hall when we went to work on Alliot Hall.

Were we anxious to see that building up! January 1961 was the opening date.

What a change from the old chow hall (which was then located in the present Austin Hall). It was literally a shot in the arm to our morale. Ant that new snack bar was beyond our wildest dreams.

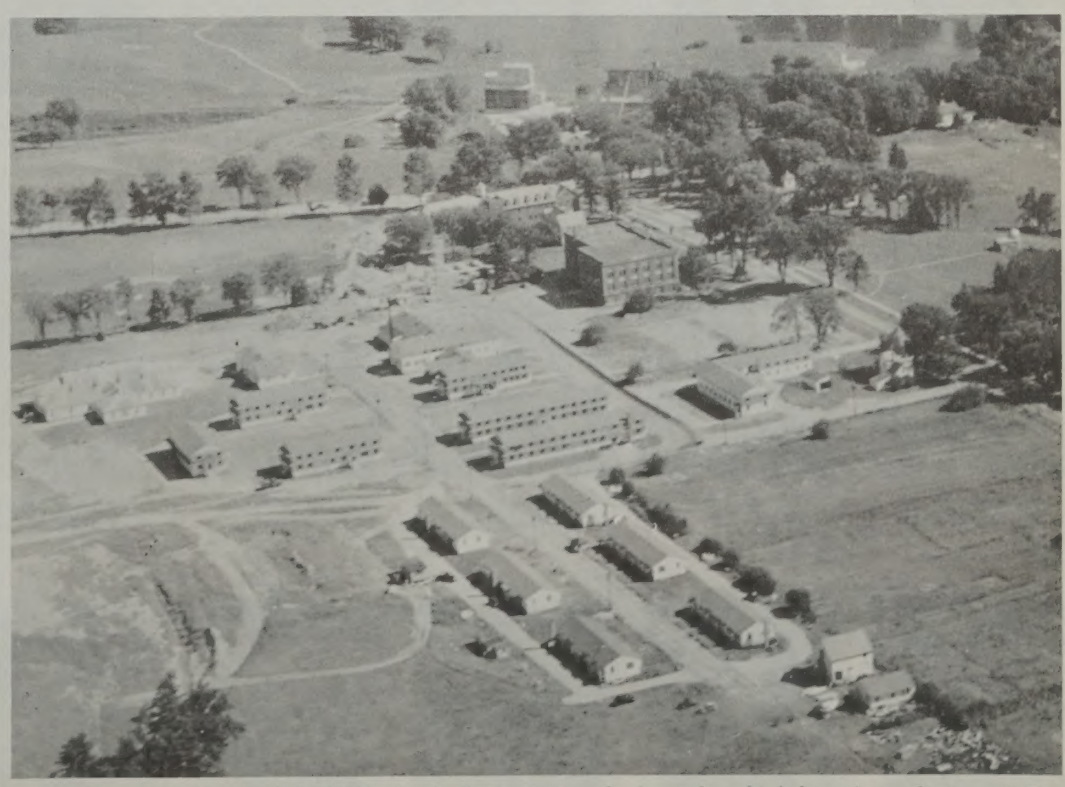
The whole world looked better after that. Now to settle back - wait a minute! They were digging again. This time Austin Hall (the old Austin Hall, that is) was laid to rest and out of its ashes came the newest of our dorms, Joyce Hall. The quadrangle was finished and we all breathed a sigh of relief, this past spring.

Yet work still goes on. This past summer the campus got a real face lifting with the removal of four old, decrepit barracks which had long outlived their usefulness. These were replaced by "Please Keep Off The Grass" signs. Founders' Hall was overhauled completely. And if you doubt the extent of this job, just ask any upperclassman.

That brings you up to date. What next? More, more and still more. By 1964 a new priests' residence and the college chapel will have been added to our skyline. Then a new library, another classroom building, a modern infirmary and a field house.

Our slogan? "Dig we must", a la Con Edison, would be as good as any. "Dig we must for a growing St. Michael's".

Now you too will be able to witness the changes as the years go by and look back on the days of St. Michael's dynamic growth.



THE OLD - Aerial view of St. Michael's in 1947. Notice the barracks which have been eliminated. The construction of Science Hall had begun left of Jemery Hall.

Fr. Geoffrey Keating Named New Dean Of Men At SMC

The new dean of men at St. Michael's College is Rev. Dr. Geoffrey I. Keating, S.S.E.

His appointment was announced by St. Michael's president, Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E.

Fr. Keating succeeds the Rev. James R. Coombs, S.S.E. who has been named principal of Cardinal Mindszenty High School, Dunkirk, N.Y.

A native of Springfield, Mass., Fr. Keating has been teaching at St. Michael's since 1958. He has been an assistant professor of theology. He is also on the faculty of St. Edmund's Seminary, Burlington.

He earned his licentiate in theology from the Gregorian University in 1955 at Rome and his doctorate in theology there in 1958. His bachelor's degree was with honors from St. Michael's in 1951.

He was ordained in 1955 at Rome by Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, Cardinal protector of the Society of St. Edmund.

At St. Michael's, Fr. Keating has been spiritual director, moderator of the National Federation of Catholic College Students and of the Knights of the Altar. This past year he was moderator of the junior class and a member of the faculty softball team.

Dear Abbot

by Paul B. Simmons

Dear Abbot:
This will be my first stay in Vermont. Is the weather here really what everyone warned me it would be?
Warm-blooded Freshman

Dear Warm:
In Vermont, we don't worry about the weather - just the heat.
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
I've heard that there aren't very many girls in the Winooski area. Is this true?
Fast Frosh

Dear Fast:
Of course not! Why, there are at least a hundred girls from the local high schools just dying to meet all three hundred of you new Michaelmen!
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
I'm used to good, home-style cooking. Can I expect this at St. Michael's?
Cadaver

Dear Cad:
Sorry.
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
I've heard a lot about how hard the upperclassmen are on the Frosh. Is this rumor true?
Apprehensive

Dear App:
What rumor?
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
Is ROTC really as much fun as the pamphlet pictured it?
Hot Dogs

Dear Hot:
How much fun did the pamphlet dare say it was?
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
Could you explain the marking system at St. Michael's?
Puzzled Pupil

Dear Puzz:
Well, count your class mark as 3/4, your homework as 6/7, your exam mark as 4/3, and your attendance mark as nothing: divide your "times tardy" into your room number and then go and ask your instructor. He might know.
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
Are all the campus rooms as pleasant as the one pictured in the college catalogue?
Feather Bedder

Dear Feather:
Which college's catalogue?
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
I've heard that they've just finished remodeling Founders' Hall. What was it like before?
A Tenant

Dear Ten:
It defies description but I will say this: we didn't drop our suitcases too hard.
D.A.

Dear Abbot:
What are the exams like at St. Michael's?
Studyless

Dear Study:
They're pretty rough - but don't worry. If you can't figure them out the first time around, they give you a second chance in Summer School.

Third Generation Mikemen Welcome

Three Vermont freshmen this year will be following in the steps of their grandfathers. Two of them are third generation Michaelmen.

Shaun M. Branon of Fairfield is a son of Francis Branon and a grandson of the late E. Frank Branon who sent six sons and a daughter to St. Michael's.

Thomas M. Rivers, Burlington, is a grandson of the late Joseph Rivers, '10 and a son of Robert Rivers, '37. His brother, Robert Rivers, '63, is the first third generation Michaelman in the history of the college.

Edward L. Dorey, South Burlington, is a grandson of Arthur J. Dorey, '10, also of South Burlington.

Daniel F. MacDonald, director of admissions, said there will be 35 freshmen from Vermont.

New York sends the largest number, followed in order by Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Jersey.
